Hello, my name is Chrysa Vongkli and I'm 26 years old. I live in Greece the last 11 years and my nationality is from Albanian.

Before 2 years ago, with our team we established Unique Holidays Bureau. Unique Holidays, is an office that works in hospitality management, especially in Albania and the Greek islands.

There are 6 employees, the standard ones and every summer we have many students on internships. We decided to move in future social entrepreneurship by doing a village in touristic industry and this village is going to be for disable people. We moved to this decision, because we believe that everybody should have holidays, without expectations and discriminations.

The advise that I'm going to give to ethnic minorities women that want to start an enterprise is that they have constantly to look for information and knowledge on the object that they are going to start their enterprise. I think that it is the only path that is going to lead them to success.
